IDEAS LABORATORY: SCANMED ROADS & ITS

Good practices of Roads and ITS along the ScanMed Corridor

Organisation and Concept

Date: 08/09 May 2017

Place: Rome, Italy

Participants: Heads of units of road transport infrastructure managers, ITS responsible managers and the European Commission

ScanMed Ideas Laboratories

The aim of the ScanMed Ideas Laboratories (SMIL) is to bring forward good practices of activities along the ScanMed Corridor and to stimulate dialogue all in order to develop a more efficient and effective corridor. This will strengthen the corridor as such and the operations that gives the physical corridor a value. All dimensions of the concept of sustainability are important in creating the corridor and the service of tomorrow meeting high expectations from direct and indirect users of the corridor and the services.

This Ideas Laboratory can be considered being a tool contributing to the ambitious goals of ScanMed Corridor through:

- Encouraging ScanMed participants to share knowledge and learn from each other;
- Being a basis for dialogue, experience exchange and outreaching – hopefully long lasting contacts of mutual benefit will be a result;
- Aiming at improving the characteristics of the Corridor, and ultimately providing recommendations for future policies.

The priorities for road infrastructure development are clearly laid down in Article 19 of the TEN-T Guidelines and they are: “(a) promotion of road safety; (b) use of ITS, in particular multimodal information and traffic management systems, and integrated communication and payment systems; (c) introduction of new technologies and innovation for the promotion of low carbon transport; (d) provision of appropriate parking space for commercial users offering an appropriate level of safety and security; and (e) the mitigation of congestion on existing roads”.

Dedicated Break-out sessions

Depending on the number of participants and the topics selected there might be up to two parallel Break-out sessions. The topics to be dealt with in Break-out sessions will be selected by the participants according to the replies received with the registration form.

Place of the meeting

The meeting is jointly hosted by the Anas S.p.A. the Italian National Roads and Highways Company fully owned by the Italian Ministry of Economy and Finance and takes place in Rome.

The detailed places are indicated in the agenda (next page).
